Chris Willis has been at the helm of the Missouri Southern Volleyball program for the past six seasons after nine years as a Division I assistant. Over the span of his career from the bench, Willis has coached 40 all-conference selections, six all-region members, two conference players of the year and one All-American.

The Missouri Southern program has enjoyed success at the highest level under Coach Willis, garnering an AVCA Top 25 ranking and being selected to the NCAA Championship.

Willis has coached camps and clinics across the U.S., from Arizona to North Carolina, and has coached internationally in Africa, Europe and Asia.

First year assistant, Ryan Meek, comes to Missouri Southern with a wealth of coaching and playing experience. Meek most recently coached with the University of Arkansas Volleyball program and continues to train the Ozark Juniors 18's team (one of the elite clubs in the Midwest). The Simi Valley, CA native played collegiately at Moorpark College before transferring to Quincy University.

The MSSU staff will be joined by several of its Missouri Southern players, along with some of the areas top coaches to round out its summer staff.

July 8 Attack Camp:

Athletes (grades 8-12) wanting to refine their attacking skills and raise their explosive power need to attend this camp. Players will learn how to use their entire body throughout the attacking motion while implementing this skill within the complete game of volleyball. Videotape analysis will be utilized for visual feedback to each participant.

9:00am-5:00pm

Cost: $80 (Includes lunch and t-shirt)

July 19 Setters Camp:

This day is designed to help setters (grades 7-12) take their skills to the next level. Each setter will receive hundreds of repetitions delivering a hittable ball. Posture, hand position, and foot work will all be taught in order to develop maximum consistency. Players will advance to jump setting, deception and attacking as the clinic progresses.
